

S. MARK BOROWSKI

mark.borowski@sutherland.com | Associate | Atlanta | P: 404.853.8121

Mark Borowski is a member of Sutherland's Intellectual Property Practice Group, practicing primarily in the areas of patent prosecution, patent litigation and trademark litigation.

From 1999 to 2005, Mark served as an officer in the United States Air Force where he was an engineer and technical team lead in the development, fielding, modernization and sustainment of multiple systems for the Department of Defense. During this time, Mark worked with joint U.S. and NATO personnel to solve problems in legacy systems supporting modern combat operations and prepared conceptual systems for continued development. While in graduate school, his research concentrated on the integration of acoustic sensor technology with radio frequency designs for biological and chemical applications.

He is registered to practice before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Mark is also actively engaged in pro bono and public service. He has represented pro bono clients for the State Bar of Georgia's Fee Arbitration Program and for benefits disputes with the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, and he continues to work with the Atlanta Volunteer Lawyers Foundation serving the disadvantaged in the Atlanta area.
